

Preface

IT IS A BRAND NEW DAY

This is a book driven by God, taught by the Crown Jewels of Heaven, put together by humans. This is The Book of Heaven from God above, handed down to the world so that all may learn of a whole new way, a whole new world, A Brand New Day.

Within this sacred book you will find the wisdom and teachings of seven spiritual energies from around the world. God considers these great teachers “Precious Jewels” that He has taken from His Crown of Heaven as a gift to all mankind. The energy of these wise and ancient teachers can be found at pinpoint locations throughout the world. God guided a small group of people over a 10 year period to each location and directed them to mark each with a distinct circle design made of indigenous stones. Collectively they are known as the Seven Sacred Circles of Heaven.

Each sacred circle contains the energy and voice of a simple and pure teaching that has lasted through time and eternity. These teachers have never lost their true connection with God and their lessons are to remind you to never lose your connection as well. This is not an ethereal concept, but a true physical reality that exists by God’s design. The locations of these circles are where God knows they will remain as open and pure as possible within our world.

Think of it this way—we are all born with a DNA makeup that defines who we are. Each sacred circle contains its own unique spiritual DNA. This DNA defines the heart of the teachings that exist within each circle.

God has placed these ancient teachers in these locations as a way for all of mankind to reconnect with Him in a simple yet pure and powerful way. These ancient teachers have much to share with you and are coming forth at this time with their lessons in a brand new way. Through this gift, it is God’s hope and desire that you read on and begin your own journey into a world that you will remember and take into your heart each day.

It is a new beginning, a new world, a new way. It Is A Brand New Day.

Forward

Holy Host, Your Heavenly Guide:

You must understand along the way God knew that there was a world that no longer existed, you see. The world of brotherhood had fallen away and it had now become a world that was in disarray. As God looked around at what He had created, what He could see, once beautiful green meadows and valleys were now covered with fences and guns. Looking deeper and longer, He could see where the world had been bombed and many had been destroyed. Where many great valleys that once were created to feed the world had now become places of great battlefields, you see. In all of this great experience of looking down at this amazing work of art that God had set about creating to bring humans together in great love and harmony, He could see that around the world in every direction there was disarray. The world had become a place where it was just a long fast race. The world had become a place where the color of your skin could be a disgrace. The world had come to be a place where children would no longer laugh and play, where their mothers and fathers would actually give them away. The world had come to be a place where there could be a great famine and millions would die, you see, and the world would not even take a peek and look and say, "What can I give my brother this day?"

So in deep thought and in deep contention in every way, the Father of Heaven said,

God:

There has to be a better way. I must think about what it is I want to tell the world and what I've come to say. I must give them something to think about, for the world is in disarray. I see that there's going to be more disarray. I see there's going to be more hatred and killing along the way. I see that I must pronounce that there's a different way, a different world, there are now different laws to govern my world, my work of art, you see. I want to announce it loud and clear to the world. Look, look at what I'm giving thee. I'm giving you a handbook. I'm giving you a book to live in a world in a different way. I'm giving you something that will tell you that what you are doing is not working in any way. I am sending you a message that there is a better world, that there's a brighter day, that I want the world now to be brand new. And I'm giving you a manual to make it that way.

It is important as I hand you this book, as I give it to you in a powerful way, that you understand that it is my command that there be A Brand New Day. I want the world to know and understand that I wear a great crown, and in the crown I have picked my most precious jewels. These jewels are what I consider to be the new Senators of Heaven, do you see? For in their great wisdom and great beauty and in their way of living, you see, they have found how to live without excess. They have found how to live deep in spirit and soul. They have found how to live a life where you actually can see the gifts that I've bestowed upon you. That a small flower, that a small bird, that a seed that grows, that a river that runs across a mountain, that a mountaintop in every way is a precious gift from me.

I decided, and it took me a long time, as I looked through what I considered to be a way to have A Brand New Day, I chose these magnificent jewels that I'm sharing with you. I asked them to come and give you lessons and to teach you what they know. I asked them to come in a different way, with a different voice to put out to you how there can be a brand new world and A Brand New Day. And that is what I'm handing to you, a book, a missal, teachings, lessons from my favorite jewels.

Along the way I too would sit and listen to what they had to say. There were days and moments I was astounded at the simplicity of their words and how they view the world and what they see. I was astounded to know that running after a rabbit would cause you such grief, you see. I was in great wonder to know that if I stayed in the river and I would just swim, I would be totally free.

I want you to understand, I want you to see that there is a great beauty in front of you. You are holding it in your hands. It is a missal from my world, handed to you. This missal contains all that you ever need to know to live in this world and be a true child of mine. To live without sorrow and to be brave and filled with courage. To go the distance each day. To love everyone at your table. To find others to bring to your table. It is a way for you to become one in your mind, by taking my jewels and placing them in your heart this day.

If you will place what I'm giving you, what I wear in my crown each day, and put these crown jewels in your heart, you will begin to view the world differently, you will begin to live in a different way.

I have it settled in my mind. I have it settled in my heart. I have it settled in every way. I have it now beyond what I can tell you that I'm determined that there's going to be A Brand New Day. I will talk to you in my missal about the Ballroom of Heaven, where you dance with each other and these great jewels that I'm handing to you. When you begin to read my missal, you will start the dance of your life, you will see. You will not only be dancing in the arms of the Witch Doctor, you will not only be dancing with the beautiful Aborigine. You will also be dancing with me. I've created this ballroom for you. It is contained within my missal, my book, you see.

As you begin the dance of Heaven—and that is what it's called, you see—you begin by reading and turning the page of this book. You begin because you're dancing in my ballroom with me. I have chosen these favorite jewels, these energies of such simplicity. I have chosen these jewels to be my partners to change the world, so that the world may be a place that is brand new. A brand new world and A Brand New Day, just for you.

We can no longer destroy, blow each other away. We can no longer run rampant and say, "I do not care about you. I only want to live my life in a perfect way. I want to be a mad man and kill millions of people in my own way. I have no consequences in any way for destroying half of what God created because I see myself as a god beyond gods."

I am saying to you, my children as you sit at my table, there is no other way. You come. You dance in the Ballroom of Heaven. You hold a partner in your arms this day. You say, "I want to perform magic for my brother. I want to feed my brother this day. I want to dance in the beautiful love of Mary and Jesus. I want to love in the same way. I want to know that love is eternal and that my love will last forever and it will last through time and eternity."

I want you to know that as the Witch Doctor teaches you to crawl on the ground as a snake, it is a brand new world, you will see. I want you to understand that I'm giving you gifts that are so rare. They are my crown jewels, you see. They will become worth more than everything you've ever owned if you take them into your heart, you will see.

As you come and sit at my table and I'm speaking to you this day, I'm telling you there's a Ballroom of Heaven and all you have to do is open the page and begin to read. All you have to do is stand in the ballroom and begin to swing and sway. All you have to do is dance through Heaven with me. The more you dance with me, the more you're going to see that your world becomes a place of great purity. That every morning your heart begins to sing, and every night when you fall asleep you say, "I danced with the Medicine Man today. I squatted on the ground with the Indian and now I see that my world is very different and it has meaning for me."

I sit here at the table with you, my children. I want to say it is my hope that you will read on and become part of the heavenly dance with me. There truly is no other way. If you have a better way to live in this world, if you can find jewels rarer than the ones I'm giving you, I challenge you this day to hold them up to me. If they do not live from the truth of what I say, that you must have a pure heart each and every day, that you may not kill your brother, that you are not a god this day, that you may not live for just what's in your pocket, that you must live for what you can give away, you are not a true rare jewel in my crown that I would wear this day.

You must understand there is a world beyond what you can see. You must understand that you are more than just a piece of hair and flesh. You are spirit that has come from me. And when your days on this path end, you must return somewhere, do you not agree? And it's important that you return with the pureness that you came with, do you see? So when you read this book, when you hold it in your lap, when you put it to bed with you at night, you see, do not look in the mirror and say, "It is just a book, I will put it away." Look in the mirror and say, "I've taken the Aborigine into my heart this day." Look in the mirror and say, "The Witch Doctor gave me a great gift this day." Look in the mirror and say, "I will love like Mary and Jesus. I will see that I am true spirit and will return back to where I came from and I will go in a very pure way."

As you dance across the floor of my ballroom, as you hold the hands of each gift I've given you, I want you to become one of the jewels in my crown. So I'm asking you this day to take a look in the mirror to see:

Am I worthy to take these jewels into my heart or am I going to just keep living in the same old sad way?

Am I going to believe the truth of these jewels or am I going to say, "There's only one way"?

Am I going to swim in the river of life or am I going to crumble and dry up and fall away?

Am I going to take a large bite of life? Am I going to chew away?

Am I going to live as God wants me to live?

Am I going to be fully human, alive, filled with hope, love and pride?

Am I going to plant a seed and know that it will grow?

Am I going to believe that I am a true spirit and that I have a soul?

Am I willing to be fully awake this day?

Am I going to stand on the top of a mountain and say, 'The only thing that matters to me is having a flower in my hand and the stars in my eyes this day?'

Am I going to be happy at the end of each day?

Am I going to wake and say, 'It is A Brand New Day?'"

I am your Father. I've given you my missal for A Brand New Day. I'm asking you, Dear Reader, to step into the Ballroom of Heaven with me and begin to dance with the greatest treasures, the rarest jewels of my crown. It is my hope that you will become a jewel in my crown too.

Your Father from Heaven.

Thank you for sitting at my table with me. It is your choice to read my missal, and if you do, you will have the most glorious journey you could ever imagine or ever understand or ever see. It is A Brand New Day. Come dance with me.

Introduction

Holy Host:

God has opened the door for the world to see His face, His beauty, His power, His force, His grace. He will take you around the world to visit, experience and see the energy of His seven breathtaking jewels, breathtaking in beauty, great in wisdom and spirit too. He wants you to look past the veil and see a whole new world, a whole new way.

There has been a knocking on the door and an opening of Heavenly energy. Placed upon your path are the Seven Sacred Circles of Heaven, each one a jewel from the crown of God's Heavenly kingdom, you see. These rare jewels have been polished by a Heavenly crew, with great discipline and a purifying of their own souls, to bring these circles forward to you.

Sweetness of this day will become like a precious fruit to you. There may be some wandering of thoughts and ideas, you see. However, all will come back to one road. You must understand that this is a missal, handed down from Heaven for the world, you see. The Book of Heaven is a missal, handed down from Heaven, from the Father above, so that the world may see the great sweetness, the great fruit, the great gifts that He has for you. Understand as you're reading these words that you're entering into a world of great mystery. If you are willing to read forward in all that's going to be shown and presented to you, on an adventure that you will never forget, in a world that you will remember and take into your heart each day, you will find in this mystery a journey for your soul.

As you begin to look through this book, you're going to see all of the jewels handed down from Heaven to the world in a beautiful way. It is important for the Reader to understand this is not fiction that you have in your hand. This is God's world being presented to you in a way that you can understand. This is a missal from Heaven that will show you the way, that will open your mind and heart, you see, to the great jewels that have been bestowed on the world. Do not take these jewels lightly or believe in any way that you must interpret what is being shown to you. Read on and absorb the great sweetness of this journey into your soul. As you finish this missal, you will look at the world and God and these great jewels in a very different way, you will see.

The journey begins with a great knocking on the door. The knocking became louder and there was an explosion in Heaven. In that great explosion, millions of suns combined together to open a heavenly doorway for this work to begin. The knocking became louder. The suns exploded brighter. Seven stars were joined together by a golden cord. These seven stars are God's great jewels, the Seven Sacred Circles of Heaven.

The power of God's love will be your protection to take you into these sacred circles. Enter now into the valley of the Morongo Indians. Come sit, come pray and experience another way of looking at the world through their eyes. May you see a belief that relies only on the spirit above. They believe that the spirit above gives them the power to live, to dream, to love, to fight, to be human and divine in every way. By knowing and seeing the Red Man, you may experience a different belief, a different view, a true jewel in the Crown of Heaven just for you. It is a wonder and joy, a miracle in every way to step into the moccasins of the Red Man to find another way. You will be shown how the Red Man's beliefs can become part of your heart, your soul and your beliefs, too. Each bird that flies, each flower that grows, each sunrise and sunset has a spirit message for you.

Be brave, be strong, have faith in the spirit of love. Know that the Red Man never steps away from the initiation of being shown spirit, truth, love and the way. The Red Man holds the key for you. Depend only on spirit for all that you do. Do not break that connection—ever—in all tasks large and small. Envelop yourself in the world of spirit, its truth, its demonstrations, its force, power and miracles too. You will be the Red Man in your heart and soul and mind. You too will experience the divine.

Hear and feel the heartbeat of spirit's love. Experience a great surge of life force and complete surrender to a spirit that is waiting just to serve you.

It is a brand new time, It is A Brand New Day.

Come sit in the silence of God's love for you. You will always be shown the way. Take a deep breath, be the Red Man filled with belief of spirit in all that you touch and do. It is a brand new Heaven being shown to you. It is A Brand New Day.

Now anoint yourself with the sacred waters of Mt. Fuji. Each drop is precious, you see. It carries the spirit of the Samurai, God's gift to you.

God:

The jewels of my crown are seven, beautiful, precious to me. The Samurai is the heart jewel, powerful and strong, you see. The Samurai has a sword for cutting through problems. There are no problems too tough or hard that the Samurai sword cannot cut through. For the heart and the mind of the Samurai knows there is a force and a power he can draw on to achieve whatever he came to do, a force, a power, drawn from above.

In a great opening of the heart and mind of the Samurai, you see the strength that comes from knowing a force of power so strong that in his heart and mind nothing can go wrong. The Samurai is a warrior with a belief so intense, so filled with determination and fight, that he can capture the sun and the moon in one beautiful night. The Samurai has the heart for the fight. The Samurai knows there is no other way to live, you see. The Samurai will run all day and night. The Samurai is one of my brightest jewels in my crown. The Samurai will never let you down. The Samurai will always find a way with thought, poise, concentration and knowing in the mind and heart that there is no other way.

Win the fight whatever it may be, open your mind and heart to a force, a power from above. Be the Samurai in all you do. Think, move, act, find the courage, the power, the strength through spirit. Never sit, never lay. Get up, move, think, find a way. Never give up. Be bold, be fierce, be thoughtful, be wise. Capture the sun, hold the moon, find a way. You have the heart of the Samurai; bold, fierce, filled with an unbending spirit. You are Samurai, a jewel of great source in the Crown of Heaven, one of my brightest jewels. Take a look, take a piece of the Samurai into your heart. Hold it and be a Samurai warrior, a jewel of God's crown. You will then always find a way in all that you do on your human path here. It is my wish, you see, that you love this jewel and that you know it is A Brand New Day. It is a brand new world. Open your mind and heart to my gift to you. A brand new world, a brand new way. It is A Brand New Day.

In giving you these jewels it is my wish that you will be taking them into your own heart, placing them one-by-one. Now you have a gem in your heart that works for you each day, connecting you to a world of spirit, beauty, joy and force. Your human path is open to a new world and A Brand New Day.

Welcome to the voice of God speaking to you about His greatest treasures, His crown jewels. The Red Man of the desert floor. The Samurai from the snow topped mountains. The Aborigines of the beautiful rugged Australian bush land. The Witch Doctor of shadows and light from the great island energy. The great Buddha with faith, wisdom and light from a world of mountains wide and deep. From the purest place on earth, the great Andes energy, the love and teachings of Jesus, a rare jewel of faith so deep it will make you cry and weep. The last jewel in the Crown of Heaven is the pupil of God's eye, looking lovingly at you. These seven jewels make up God's crown, jewels that are gifts for you to see, experience, read, and take into your heart, so that you too may wear the Crown of Heaven each day.

In wearing the crown jewels, you will be the Red Man in all that you do. You will see the life force in each soul or object in front of you. You will be filled with spirit. You will know what to do.

The jewel of the Samurai will give you determination so strong that you will always accomplish whatever is placed in front of you. You will find a way with the jewel of the Samurai in your heart.

The Aborigine jewel will open new dreams for you. In your dreams you will be transformed in new, unusual and brilliant ways. The jewel of the Aborigine will laugh and play with you. Your needs will be met each day in either a subtle or powerful way. You will experience joy and delight, a proof of my spirit through this jewel. It is one of my greatest joys, the Aborigine way. I give it freely to you.

I now prepare you for one of my jewels that is the brightest star in my crown. The Buddha has come to be a rare jewel for humanity, a jewel of acceptance, freedom and thoughtfulness in all that you do, allowing spirit to move always through you. Staying connected to me, the creator of all, you will find a breath of prayer in this jewel. A perfect timing of what is right for you, a place to meditate on the above each day. A position of prayer, an invitation for prayer and chanting to the world of me. To see with an eye for beauty, design and thoughtfulness, you see. To stare into the face of a flower and be filled with love. To hold and feel the heartbeat of a dove. To connect the dove to me and yourself. To form an exquisite design and then to sweep it away. To sit in prayer and meditation each day. To chant a holy sound. To open a door to experience me. What a beautiful jewel in my crown. What a beautiful way for you and me.

This jewel in your heart opens the door for serenity, peace, love, beauty and grace. A devotion to the world above, a faith that there is another path, another way. It is a brand new world, a brand new way. Take the jewel of the Buddha into your heart this day. A brand new you with a heart filled with these precious jewels. It is A Brand New Day.

The jewel of the Witch Doctor I share with you, a jewel filled with fire and light. It is a jewel of great power and magic, a jewel so rare it's hard to gaze on it too long. The jewel of the Witch Doctor will show you how to perform magic, how to heal and bless, how to thwart the darkness and your enemies. This jewel is a great tool of magic that you can use when you are being tricked or fooled or going down the wrong path. The jewel of the Witch Doctor will say, "Beat your drum, pound the earth, step out of the shadows, you see. Find a certain leaf, insect, bone or shell. A shell has the power of the sea. A leaf has the force of change. Look and find a bee. It has the ability to pollinate and renew. However, the bee also has the power to sting and force your enemies away from you. Use the spirit of these objects to change your course."

The Witch Doctor has a bag of gifts for you, a bone, a piece of hair. Use these gifts to heal a hole in the heart or an old, sad memory. The Witch Doctor is always ready to use his mysteries and his tools. When you take this jewel into your heart you will experience magic too. For the Witch Doctor is also my source of magic. Magic is a part of me. If a leaf can fall from a tree, renew the soil and return to me, that is magic. Be like the Witch Doctor. Carry magic in your heart this day. Take this jewel I offer you. Place it in your heart and know you are filled with magic through and through. This jewel I give to you, a perfect jewel for you.

A crown jewel is just that—a jewel of such color, of such clarity, a jewel of rare beauty and value and worth. The world has come to value these jewels as precious and rare and will spend a fortune to obtain them. I am giving you my crown jewels, their rareness, their beauty, their value—for free.

One of my rarest jewels is the man Jesus, a jewel filled with such fierce love for me that he has come to teach you to be loving and true in all that you do and all that you say, and to stay connected to me in every breath that you take. This jewel is filled with love for the world, love for the human race and love for me. And his greatest gift is to teach you that you can live a life of Heaven on earth if you stay connected to me with every breath you take and every prayer you make. You never separate your human life from your life with me. This rare jewel has come to open your eyes, so that you may understand and see that when you wake in the morning, you are connected to me. When you close your eyes at night, you are still connected to me. It is his greatest teaching. The human race should be always connected to God, that's me.

The last jewel that I am presenting to you is a jewel that is quite bright and clear. It never gets dull or fogs over, you see, because it is a jewel that is looking directly at thee. It is a jewel that sees how wondrous you are. It is a jewel that says, "You are my favorite star." It is the brightest jewel in my crown. It is the pupil of my eye, you see. Wherever you go, my pupil is looking at you. Whether you are up or down, whether your life seems happy or sad, you see, my pupil is looking always at you, begging, asking, "Just look back at me." The pupil of my eye never loses contact with you, and when you take this into your heart you're going to say, "I know now that God's pupil is connected to my eye, and my eye is connected to the pupil of God's eye. And everything that I do, every word that I say, every deed that I achieve, every accomplishment that I make along the way, is because the answer has come to me by looking at the pupil of this rare jewel, and this rare jewel looking back at me." Remember that I am the jewel of the center of the crown. I am the pupil of the Eye of God. I see all you are and all that you will ever be. And as I look at you, you are one of the rarest jewels I have ever seen. And I want you to see that I am one of your rarest jewels too. We are shining bright now, you and me, together—rare jewels of Heaven—that’s how it’s meant to be. Never take your eyes from my pupil. I never take my eyes from you. And you must understand in every way that I want you to have a perfect, wonderful, amazing Brand New Day.

In the course of gathering my jewels, I took my time. I knew that each jewel had to show a part of me, a part of my world I give to you. A jewel that I knew would give you the source of me. A jewel from my Heaven that would remain faithful and true, never separate from me. These jewels are my treasures. Because of their belief in me, they never wanted to be separate from me. They shine bright in my crown each day. Be like these jewels. Connect with me, open your mind and heart and soul to me. Let me shower you with my beautiful gems. Let me pour them into your heart for you. Allow them to sparkle, shine and glow. Allow them to be part of your mind, body, heart and soul.

You will begin to hear me speak to you through each jewel. I will show you the path, the walk, the stairs, the brand new life, a brand new world, a brand new way.

My gifts to you—my crown jewels. This is a brand new world, a brand new life and A Brand New Day.
